

October 2015

Well, you can feel a bit of a chill in the air Fall is here. After this past week of heavy rain I am not sure if any of the fish (stripers, bluefish, and albies) are sticking around or heading south. As I am writing this there is a forecast of a hurricane heading north.

September's meeting was a bit thin as I heard being the first one of the season it usually is but, for those who did show don't despair a lot is planned for the year. The board is already planning speakers and some holiday Christmas plans, make sure you mark the calendar we meet the 4th Tuesday of the month.

I have been out the past week looking for hardtails and was able to hook up. I hope that as members everyone was able to have a good summer of fishing.

Do not despair steelhead is fast approaching. This is a great fishery- try to make it or put it on your bucket list. I plan on tying some flies this month so come see what I am tying. Or go watch Armand I am sure he is still tying up some bass (freshwater) flies.

If anyone has a special fly that works and has been productive let the club see how you are tying it –share your knowledge that is what we are here for after all we are a fly fishing tying club.

Make sure you speak to Izzy and give him your email we want to do a better job of letting everyone know what is going on with the club this year. If you have a friend who fishes or ties flies invite them to the club we want to grow our membership this year.

At the meetings voice your opinions this is your club.

Tight lines hope to see you

Joel,
